

Question: How did the development of Science and Technology shape human history? 15pts

Name: Person B. Test

Section: CPE-1201

1. The development of science and Technology shape human history through the discoveries and innovation the human history or the scientist before are have a critical thinking and observation their created some invention that can help people to have a easy life or to help people to their work te be easy and faster/ the development of science and technology shape human history base on their action and innovation. The DOST develop same discoveries to have alternative and sustainable life all the people in the world.